DECO Security Services Announces New Division

Global Training Division Added

Baxter, Minn., March 1, 2006. DECO Security Services, a leading provider of security services to federal, tribal, and corporate clients throughout the world, today announced the separation of its Global Training programs to its own division within DECO.

While the Protective Security Services Training Program will remain under the Security Services division, Global Training Consultations have blossomed over the past five years and DECO has found a need to dedicate key personnel and resources to this growing segment and capability.

This new Global Training division is supported by DECO's International Anti-terrorism Program led by Senior Vice President and Co-Owner Mr. Derek Dorr and Mr. Walter Deering, former Acting Assistant Director of U.S. Department of State, Diplomatic Security.

About DECO Security Services:

Based out of Minnesota, DECO is a leading provider of security services to federal, tribal, and corporate clients throughout the world. Over the past 20 years DECO has succeeded by achieving a superior, trend-setting standard of professionalism, reliability, and capability in the security industry. As a Native American owned company, DECO has the distinction to be considered one of the elite minority-owned and certified firms in the United States. Some current clients include: Department of Homeland Security, Department of Defense, Department of State, Federal Aviation Administration, and the Environmental Protection Agency.
